Please join us for a panel discussion on work-life balance as well as networking with other PWR women. You'll hear some success stories from professionals who managed to balance the competing demands on their time and attention, gather advice from those who study this issue specifically, and share tips and strategies from others currently facing the same set of issues.

Panelists include Terri Albertson, Senior Manager, Grant Thornton, Lynn Ingenhuett-Quinn, Director, Work/Life Balance, and David Pudlin, President, Hangley, Aronchick, Segal, & Pudlin.

Professional Women's Roundtable's mission is to provide networking, leadership, educational and personal growth opportunities to a diverse group of emerging women business leaders in our community. PWR is an informal network of professional women for whom networking and/or business development is a significant component of their professional responsibilities and career objectives. PWR participants come together on a regular basis to acquire and hone business development and other professional development skills, expand and strengthen their professional network, including their referral base, and meet and cultivate new business prospects and resources. The ideal PWR participant has five to fifteen years experience in her chosen profession or career and is focused on enhancing her networking and business development skills and efforts, as well as the other professional skills necessary to advance in today's marketplace.
